Police News

A call was received on Thursday evening from a resident of 3 court, Laurel Hill, to request that the police examine a small snake which he had captured and shut into a jar. The officer who was sent was bitten on the finger by the eight-inch snake, apparently about six weeks old, which resulted in his experiencing a numbing sensation in his arm for about three hours.

The snake was taken to the Beltsville Research Center, where it was identified as a baby copperhead. Copperheads come in litters of from six to eight, and the parents would still be in the vicinity of 6-week-old offspring.

The snake was found in a pile of logs near a boiler room in the wooded square bounded by Hillside and Ridge and Laurel Hill and Research, directly opposite the North End School.

Parents are urged to keep their children away from this area until it can be cleaned out. Copperheads are poisonous from birth, and their venom can make a child ill or even prove to be fatal.

Two little girls emerged from the wooded area near the armory and told police that they were lost. The youngsters, girl scouts from Camp Conestoga on Good Luck Road, had been sent to look for two other Scouts who were missing. By the time police brought the girls back to the camp, the original lost girls had returned and the leaders were now scouring the woods for the second pair.

Due to a recent increase in pilferage and mischievous pranks, youths who wish to sleep out of doors away from home will not have police sanction unless they are accompanied by a responsible adult during the entire time.

On Wednesday morning, fourteen-year-old Skip Bingham, a member of the swim team, was the first to arrive at the pool for practice. Skip noticed that one of the doors was open, and that the section of the counter where tickets are sold had been torn away. John McElderry, the team coach, called the police. They discovered that a cash box containing $50 and three rolls of tickets had been stolen during the night. The empty canvas bank sack was later found at the creek near St. Hugh's, along with some torn ticket stubs which had also been in the still-missing cash box.

Thieves broke into a home on Northway, said police, who found that the house had been ransacked and personal items valued at $75 removed. The residents of the house had gone away on vacation and neglected to notify police, so that a house check might be made while they were away.

Two boys have been charged with stealing doughnuts, which had been left outside the door of a local business establishment early Wednesday morning. They will face a juvenile hearing in Hyattsville.

A fourteen-year-old girl was caught setting a fire in the Centerway underpass on Thursday evening. The girl was released in the custody of her parents, with a report going to the County Fire Marshall for possible action.

Because of the hazards they can create, children found riding bicycles on the sidewalks in the Center will have their bikes taken away from them for a period of

SPECIAL REGISTRATION FOR CITY COUNCIL ELECTION

Wednesday, August 9, 6 to 9 p.m. at city offices

Registrants must have resided in Maryland for one year and in Greenbelt for six months before election.

Drowning Child, 2, Rescued by Slepitz

Little Douglas Dwyer, 2 1/2, of Orange, Connecticut, is alive today because of the quick action taken by his uncle, Alec Slepitz, 55-G Ridge. Slepitz discovered the child, face down under 15 feet of water in a pool near the Dwyers' home, and immediately attempted to revive him, using the method of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. The boy began breathing normally after 15 minutes of this treatment. He was then taken to the hospital, where he remained under observation for possible pneumonia for three days. Douglas is now back home, suffering no ill effects from his experience.

According to Dr. Louis Levy and Dr. Leonard Rapaport, neighbors of the Dwyers, mouth-to-mouth breathing had saved the child's life. Only six months ago, Slepitz completed a life-saving course.

Douglas' father, Richard Dwyer, said the family had noticed the youngster was missing and had organized a search. He estimated that Douglas could not have been in the water for more than four minutes before his rescue by Slepitz, who, with his family, was spending the day with the Dwyers.

As a result of this near-drowning, pools in Orange will be inspected to make sure that they are enclosed by a three-foot fence and a gate.

Labor Day Festival

Plans for Greenbelt's annual Labor Day Festival are proceeding apace, with Parade Chairman Austin Green firming up the details of the "grandest display" in history. So far, the following organizations have entered floats or displays: Izaak Walton League, Woman's Club of Greenbelt, Greenbelt Lions Club, Greenbelt Junior Chamber of Commerce, Nationwide Insurance

Babe Ruth Tournament

Greenbelt loses opener to Baltimore, 6-3.

After taking an early lead of two runs in the first inning and one in the seventh, Greenbelt bowed to a competitive Baltimore team, 6-3. Baltimore's big inning came in the 4th when Greenbelt pitcher Tim Moore gave up four walks, a balk and one costly error committed by an overthrow from third to first to allow four runs to score. Baltimore later scored two runs in the sixth. Baltimore's team scored only two earned runs. Greenbelt pitchers allowed only four hits while Baltimore pitcher Martinek allowed seven hits. Frank Gill paced the Greenbelt hitters with two for four while Mark Gerring collected a two base hit for the only extra base hit. Gangi of Baltimore hit a sixth inning home run with one on.

Geller Files First Nomination Petition For Council Election

The first candidate to file his nomination petition for the city council is Harvey Geller, 117 Northway. His petition was filed on July 27 with City Clerk Winfield McCamy, just a week after nominations were opened.

Little World Series

The Greenbelt Little League opened its World Series Saturday, July 29, with the last year's champs, DAV Tigers, playing the American League champs, Pepsi Cola Athletics. For thrills and excitement this game had it. With Paul Opperman pitching airtight ball for the Tigers and Jim Rogers for the Athletics both teams played errorless ball. At the end of six (6) innings the score was 1 to 1. Nine year old Ronnie Sillaman took over the pitching chores for the Athletics and Tommie Bingham for the Tigers. Both boys run into some bad luck but good fielding held the score down with the Tigers scoring in the top of the 7th to take the lead. The Athletics tied it up in the last of the 7th. In the eighth a fine double play from Chrot to Moraz to Cisco erased a scoring threat for the Tigers and the Athletics wrapped it up in the bottom of the eighth with one run scoring to give them the win. Pepsi Cola Athletics 3 - DAV Tigers 2.

Sunday the Pepsi Cola Athletics, behind the pitching and hitting of George Moraz and aided by Jimmy Rogers, wasted no time in wrapping up the city championship. With the entire team playing wideawake ball and fine fielding by Joey Ryan and Ronnie Sillaman, the DAV Tigers had no time to get in scoring position. The Tigers gave it a good fight but this was not their day. Pepsi Cola Athletics 11 - DAV Tigers 1.

Guardsmen to Train

A number of Greenbelt men will be leaving with the local National Guard unit, Battery B, 110 Artillery, 2nd Howitzer Battalion, for summer training at Camp Pickett, Va., August 12 to 26. Included are Staff Sgts. Austin Green and Paul Reamy, both members of the Greenbelt Police Department, Sgts. James Mitchell and Kenneth Reamy, Specialists Harry Davis and Vance Jones, Corporals Albert Myers, Philip Petrone, Harold Marsh, Robert Nelson, John Riley, James Rock, Walter Shifflet, and Andrew Weedon, and Private First Class James Kuykendall.

Private Dennis Wagner has left for six months of training at Fort Sill, Okla., and Private Matthew McDonald will take basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., before he, too, reports to Fort Sill. Both men will be assigned to the local Guard unit after completing their training.

P.G. Library Use

Rises; Ours Drops

Library circulation has dropped in Greenbelt from 42,276 in 1959-60 to 40,613 in 1960-61, a reversal of a county-wide trend. County Library Director Elizabeth B. Hage announced that the Prince Georges County Memorial Library has just completed the busiest year since its founding in 1946. A total circulation of 711,979 included 683,533 books and 28,446 non-book materials an increase of six per cent over the previous year.

Library use has grown steadily each year, as the county population has continued to increase. Circulation per capita is now estimated at 1.99.

Additional candidates, including incumbents, desiring to become candidates in the September 19 election for the five-man council must file petitions containing at least 43 and not more than 71 names of qualified registered voters at the city clerk's office (together with a $3 filing fee). The deadline for filing is August 21.

A voter may sign only one nominating petition, even though he may vote for five candidates. Petition forms may be obtained from the city clerk's office, or a candidate may use his own form. Mrs. McCamy will check the petition for valid signatures and disqualify a voter's signature on the second and all subsequent petitions she receives on which it appears. Married women are asked to sign petitions as Mary Doe, not Mrs. John Doe.

GELLER

Geller, a native of New York City, moved to Maryland 12 years ago. Attracted by Greenbelt's beauty and services, he joined the Woodland Hills development and has lived here since 1957. He is married and has three daughters, ages 6, 10, and 12.

For the past 15 years, he has held various positions as a public health statistician, including employment with the New York City Health Department and the U. S. Public Health Service. At present he is Chief Statistician for the Cancer Control Program of the latter agency. He holds an A.B. degree in Economics from Brooklyn College, 1943, and has done graduate work at New York University and the Department of Agriculture Graduate School.

Geller has been active in civic affairs, having served as president of the Glassmanor Citizens Association before he moved to Greenbelt. During residence in Greenbelt he has served two terms as vice-president of the North End Elementary School PTA, and has been appointed for a three-year term to the Greenbelt Advisory Planning Board. Long interested in cooperatives, he is now president of Twin Pines Cooperative Savings and Loan Association and a member of the Greenbelt delegation to Greenbelt Consumer Services, Inc.

Fine Co-op Spirit

TO THE EDITOR:

One of the most wonderful things happened to me. Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association where I am employed, sent me to the CO-op Institute for an education on co-ops. Out of twelve excellent courses that were given I was only able to get in two because time was scarce.

I took the course, "The Role of the Employee in a Co-op" led by Glenn Slivinski, who is a representative of Nationwide. He taught us about what our employer expects from us, human relations, speaking, how to listen, public relations. This opened my eyes to the possibility of having all our Co-op employees given the benefit of deep insight into human relations. I think this one course alone is priceless in what it could contribute to making the people in every Co-op transaction feel better and happier for having met each other.

As a Co-op employee I have been exposed to a limited amount of this fine spirit. I learned from others who were there that this same fever of enthusiasm and spirit of fine co-operation was prevalent throughout the Institute.

To my surprise and pleasure I found a representative from Africa, the Executive Director of the Cooperative League of Formosa, five members of Icelandic labor unions, and a visitor from Venezuela with his interpreter.

It certainly strikes me that if these courses can furnish so much information and fill so many people with the enthusiasm and faith I found at Hobart, then certainly our local Co-ops could at least have matched or exceeded the number of people that came from distant lands to the Institute. I for one am rooting for a big turnout next year. I would especially like to see representatives from all our Co-ops take the course "The Role of the Employee in the Co-op" next year at Hobart. Looking forward to seeing you next year, books and related materials has grown to 150,309 (of which the Greenbelt collection numbers 10,180), an increase of 17 per cent over last year's figure of 128,522. According to national standards, this is only about a third of the number of books. Prince Georges County should have, for an adequate library ratio consists of 1 1/2 books per capita. This would mean that the county system should increase its stock to more than 500,000 books in line with a 1960 population figure of 357,395 for the county.

Mixed Emotions

TO THE EDITOR:

I want to drop a brief note to you to express my appreciation to you and to the staff of the Greenbelt News Review for the wonderful cooperation in printing articles and accepting ads for the Greenbelt Baptist Church. As we leave Greenbelt to become associated with the Eastern Baptist College, St. Davids, Pa., we leave with mixed emotions.

We have come to love our people and the friends we have made in Greenbelt. We appreciate the splendid cooperation of Mr. Charles T. McDonald, City Manager, City Council, Mr. Paul Campbell of Greenbelt Homes, Inc., and others for their assistance in serving in a number of ways in helping us to build our church.

Since our home will be located in King of Prussia, Pa., only 130 miles from here, we shall be visiting from time to time. Thank you again.

GLENN W. SAMUELSON

REQUIRED READING

To the Editor:

Since Greenbelt children are immensely interested in sports which call for adult encouragement and participation though mainly as spectators, I recommend adults of all Greenbelt sports consider reading the LOOK magazine article, "Juvenile Parents Hurt Little League Baseball" of Aug. 1, 1961. It is cogent, well-written, and should produce serious self-questioning among adults in some communities around the country.

Our concern is never to have the conditions therein described occur here. Remember that Greenbelt is dedicated to youth activities, sportsmanship, and has served well in this area of human development.

I feel that the Look article should be required reading for coaches and parents alike.

Display Handiwork

This week, store windows all over Prince Georges county will be displaying thousands of articles made by youngsters in the 65 playgrounds conducted by the County Recreation Department.

Local merchants have provided exhibition space, which will be filled with a variety of useful and decorative articles made by the children in their crafts classes.

Crafts are probably the most popular activity at the playgrounds, which are open five days a week, nine to five, to all school-age children in the county. Children may still register at their local playground, for the recreation program will continue through August 18.

Siren Notes

By RITA FISHER

A big weekend will be coming up soon for members of Greenbelt's F.D. & R.S., now called Company 35. The men and their families will have their annual picnic behind the Firehouse Saturday, August 19, followed by a splash party (for members only) at the pool. (Postponed a week if it rains.) On August 20, members and their families will head for Gwynn Oaks Park in Baltimore to attend the Fourth Annual Family Outing sponsored by the Maryland State Fire Chief's Association.

Representing Greenbelt at Gwynn Oaks as Miss Fire Chief will be Miss Mary Frances Wiser, who was also chosen to represent Greenbelt as Miss Fire Department during the Labor Day Festival. Fran has been representing the department as a majorette until recently, when she became a member of the Ladies Auxiliary.

The siren was not too active this past week. The men responded to two brush fire calls, both outside the city residential area.

The Rescue Squad carried a woman from East Riverdale to Leland Hospital on July 26. A 9-1 was a signal for both ambulances to rush to the intersection of Kenilworth and Calvert Rd. at about 2:30 a.m. on July 28. Fortunately, no first aid or emergency trips to the hospital were necessary at the scene of the auto accident.

Four emergency transports were necessary during the week.

One woman was carried to P.G. on July 28. The other three calls involved small children. One little girl was playing on the monkey bars in a playground, fell, and was carried to the doctor's office where it was discovered that she had a broken collar bone. Two infants were carried to P.G. at different times this week. Both were having difficulty breathing and the men administered oxygen en-route.

AUXILIARY NOTES

In August, the ladies will cater a 25th anniversary celebration, and in September they will cater a large wedding reception.

Members Wynkoop and Dutton, in uniform, marched along with the Majorettes in a parade at Clinton, Md. on Saturday, July 29. They carried the Majorettes' banner.

Birdwatchers' Trip

The Patuxent Bird Club will leave Laurel at 6 a.m. on Saturday, August 5, on a field trip to Sandy Point State Park. The trip leader will be Dr. B.C. Getchell of Laurel.

The club expects to view ospreys, terns, and herons through the telescope. Other birds likely to be seen include little blue herons, black-bellied plovers, lesser yellow legs, sanderlings, and four kinds of sandpipers—least, spotted, solitary, and semi-palmated.

Anyone wishing to go directly from Greenbelt may meet the group at 7 a.m. at the north parking lot at Sandy Point State Park, which is on Chesapeake Bay just off U.S. 50 at the Bay Bridge. For further information, call Mrs. Bridge at GR. 4-6193.

A Correction

Last week, the News Review printed a tip it had received, to the effect that Greenbelt Consumer Services, Inc. had sold the Center to a private individual. A G.C.S. representative has now informed us, however, that although the Center is scheduled to be sold, the sale has not yet gone through. Negotiations are still in progress, and final settlement is expected within about thirty days. G.C.S. declined to give any further details about the transaction until after it has been completed.

Six Cases of Polio Reported in State

Although it is still early in the 1961 season, six cases of paralytic poliomyelitis in Maryland have already been recorded. All six occurred in Frederick County, an area which was spared during last year's severe polio outbreaks in Greater Baltimore and Western Maryland. Initial reports show that two of the cases are due to type 3 polio virus, the same type that caused most of last year's cases. Maryland Health Commissioner Dr. Perry F. Prather stressed the fact that all but one of the 1961 polio victims to date have been unvaccinated persons.

"It is hoped that the majority of Maryland citizens have responded to the repeated urgings of physicians and health officials, and have protected their families and themselves with the recommended total of four Salk vaccinations. Those who have not done so are urged to start at once. There is no cause for complacency in a state in which 147 persons developed paralytic polio last year," Dr. Prather said.

People Watchers

By A. BYRD (AS TOLD TO VILMA CORMACK)

This morning, while resting on the Old Pine Tree, my mate and I noticed unusual activity in our territory. It was around 8 o'clock in the morning and, since both of us had been running since dawn, trying to find enough Early Worms for our hungry brood, we were glad for an excuse to just "roost" a little.

Also, since this was about the usual time that the Female of the People appears on her porch with a plateful of goodies left from her breakfast table, we were waiting for the usual handout. However, although she flew in and out of her house all morning long, she did not throw any tid-bits to us.

Instead, she worked like a squirrel hiding things in her flower bed at some points, and throwing out plants and weeds at another. Then, she picked up all the litter on the lawn, and carried it into the woods. We could not imagine what was going on. Suddenly her featherless mate appeared and we heard them arguing about what clothes to take with them in case of rain or cool weather. That gave my mate and me the idea that the People couple were preparing for their summer migration.

They loaded their car with food, clothing, cameras, digging tools, swimming clothes, and even blankets to cover them in case it turned cold. My mate and I smiled - all we have to do in cold weather is raise our feathers a little to let air in around our warm bodies, and in no time we have a light, warm cover.

Suddenly the air was full of noise, as the People couple squeezed themselves into their loaded car. The male said, "Next time we'll rent a 'U Haul' trailer". The female said, "Over my dead body." The car spit a loud explosion, then started up like a scared rabbit, and off they went.

It is quiet and peaceful in their yard again, and I could enjoy a little snooze but my mate keeps nudging me off my perch - she's hungry! So I guess we'll fly down and forage in their nice clean lawn for a fat worm or two. The young ones are back, too, chirping for more food, so I couldn't get any rest anyhow. It sure helps to get those extra handouts from the People folks.

County Fitness Meet

"Operation Fitness" is the theme for the fifth week at the summer playgrounds being conducted by the Prince George's County Recreation Department. Winners and runners-up from 65 playgrounds will compete in five District Playground Fitness Meets on Thursday, August 3, in such activities as: softball throw; standing broad jump; hop, step and jump; basketball free throw; human obstacle race; and dashes and relays.

Youngsters will compete in four classes at meets to be held at: Parklawn Recreation Center, Riverdale Recreation Center, Riverdale Elementary School, Kent Junior High School, and Morningside Elementary School. Over 1000 boys and girls are expected to participate in the Playground Fitness Meets, which start at 10 a.m.

Each child may participate in two individual and two team events, and a trophy will be awarded to the playground at each meet which acquires the most points, with ribbons being awarded to individual winners.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE

Bridge players are reminded that the Greenbelt Bridge Club will continue to hold monthly duplicate games during the summer. The next game is scheduled for Friday, August 11, at the Co-op Hospitality Room, starting at 8:30 p.m.
